SUMMARY

A 40-acre military installation is located within the city of Chernovtsy (Figure 1). The installation is served by several hard-surface roads and has convenient access to the rail line serving Chernovtsy.

The military installation (Figures 2 and 3) can house approximately 3,000 troops. Buildings within the installation include five probable multistory barracks buildings, one probable multistory barracks/administrative building, four probable vehicle maintenance buildings, six probable storage buildings, 10 probable support buildings, and one multistory probable hospital.

East of the military installation is the city park with facilities for recreation.

The nearest training and maneuver area is approximately 28 kilometers (km) southwest of the installation, near Storozhinets.

The military installation was covered by TALENT photography. KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED] were used to study the installation for significant changes. In some instances, poor quality and shadow precluded accurate building counts within the installation, but no significant changes were observed.
